

Preproduction/Document Signing Questions

[Asked on camera]

Introduction: “Federal law requires us to obtain some information from you, and to have you sign some documents. We’ll also need to check your ID and have you sign our contract. The best way we have found to comply with federal law and create the proper records is to videotape what we’re doing here. Do I have your permission to record this interview?”

1. Please tell us your name
2. What is your date of birth?
3. How old does that make you?
4. Please show us your identification documents and tell us what they are.
5. Please hold your ID up to your face.
6. Is that your picture?
7. Is that your signature on your ID?
8. Are you under the influence of any drugs here today – legal or illegal?
9. Which ones? [If applicable: Do they in any way affect your thinking, or your ability to understand what you’re doing here today? If yes – terminate production.]
10. Are you under the influence of alcohol? [If yes – terminate the production.]
11. Please take a look at the Compliance Form and Model Release, and read through it. [On camera.]
12. Do you have any questions about the documents?
13. Please fill out, initial where appropriate and sign the documents
14. Do you understand that the images and video we create will be used in adult oriented media?
15. Are you comfortable with that?
16. Have you listed all of your other names, aliases, stage names or maiden name on the compliance form?
17. Please hold the signature pages up to the camera.

18. Is that your signature?
19. Do you have any questions about what you signed or what you're doing here today?

"I will now need to make a copy of your identification documents for our files."

Postproduction Follow Up Questions

[Asked on camera]

Introduction: "We need to ask you some follow up questions to make sure that everything was ok with the shoot that you participated in here today. Can we record this?"

1. First of all, were you comfortable with everything that occurred on the shoot? [If not, please describe]
2. Did you consent to all of the activities that occurred?
3. Are you happy with the way you have been treated?
4. Do you have any concerns about anything that happened, or the way you were treated?
5. Have you been paid for your services here today?
6. Again, do you understand that the images or video we created will be used on an adult website, or other adult media?
